COUNTRESS LEDOCHOWSKA WANTS a divorce from her Polish husband, and she also wants the custody of their three children, as well as her maiden name, which was Louise Warfield.

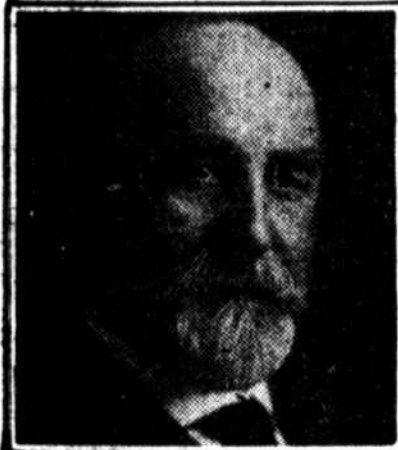

DARKNESS IS LIFTING from the eyes of United States Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, who has been blind for forty-three years but can now see rays of light. He is undergoing a new treatment, and blind persons throughout the country are writing to him for information about it.

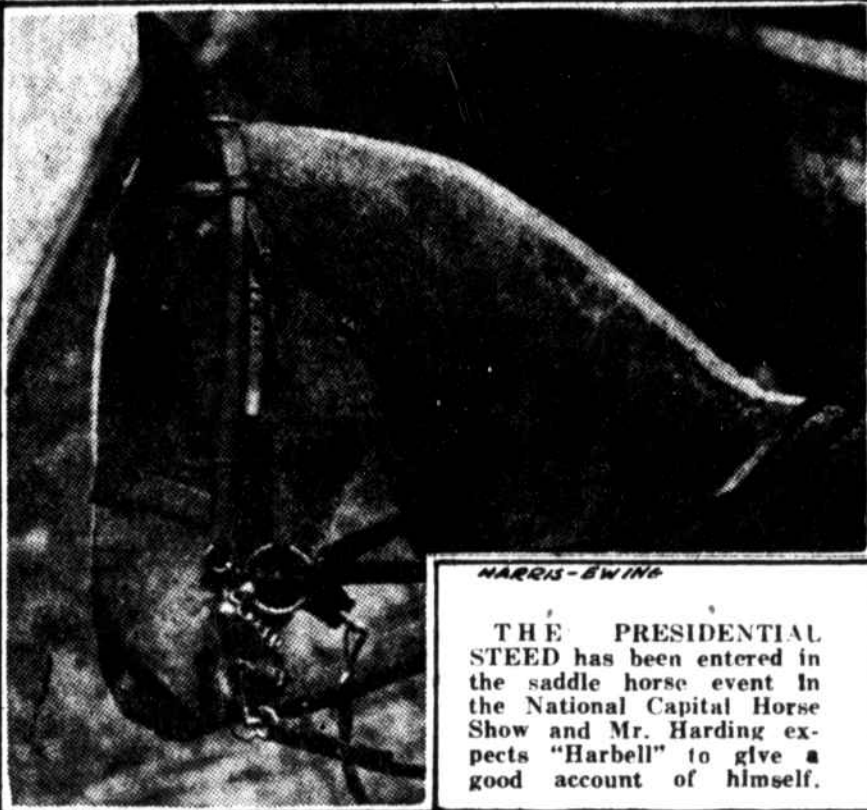

QUICK ON THE DRAW. As a result of long practice in "pegging 'em to second" while a catcher for the Cardinals, J. W. McCormick, killed Bud Ballow, two-gun fighter and slayer of six, in a Texas argument.

BAWLING 'EM OUT. Miss Calahan, head of the women workers of the Irish labor party, declared the terrorizing gunmen who participated in the one-day strike ought to be strung up. As a protest against the militarism, not a wheel turned in all Ireland and no ship left its port for twenty-four hours.

HOUSE REPAIRING is his specialty, and Dr. J. Walter Fewkes, ethnologist in the Smithsonian Institution, has gone to Colorado to restore some of the one-room apartments used by cliff dwellers.

THE PRESIDENTIAL STEED has been entered in the saddle horse event in the National Capital Horse Show and Mr. Harding expects "Harbell" to give a good account of himself.

AS A SEA NYMPH AT PLAY, Miss Ula Sharon attracted a great deal of attention at Brighton Beach, where her interpretative dances were characterized by a rhythmic wavy quite in keeping with the surge of the billowy deep.

THE LATEST WAIF deposited in the cradle near the door of the New York Foundling Hospital. The crib is always kept there so that mothers need not patronize the doorstep of the institution.

"AND THEY LIVED HAPPY ever afterward" closes some of Gouverneur Morris' novels, but he says it's all different in his private life. He has just instituted suit for divorce.

GET THIS STRAIGHT. E. J. Brown, former boot-black and newsboy, but now worth a quarter of a million dollars, is going to give Seattle, Wash., a business administration.

SWEET PATOOTIE! Song birds are love birds, but this osculatory demonstration between Lucien Muratore and his wife, Lina Cavallieri, caused fellow passengers on the S. S. France to blush.

HIGHLY AMUSED at the quaint expressions used by Aunt Lavinia, an old colored "mammy" on the Langhorne estate, in Virginia, Lady Astor enjoyed many hearty laughs while visiting home.

KNEE-HIGH TO A DUCK, Carl Achtermeyer, age forty-one, and his big brother Frank, age forty-four, whose property was seized by the American Government during the war, came to Washington to do a David and Goliath with Allen Property Custodian Thomas Miller unless he hands over their goods and chattels.

"GOT ANYTHING ON YOUR HIP?" may be what Secretary Denby said to Secretary Hughes just as they were snapped by the photographer at the White House tennis match the other day. Secretary Hughes' posture indicates that he has, and Secretary Denby is keeping a sharp eye for snooping hip-pocket censors.

WRITER AND ACTOR, Fannie Hurst and Anton Lang, the peasant who portrays the role of "Christ" in the Passion Play, are interesting companions at Oberammergau, Bavaria.
